is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALI-FORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company -

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

The race for the Atlantic League penpant is one of the most exciting which has occurred in this league in the past few seasons, and it would now appear that the result will be in doubt until after the last game has been played Satur-

Richmond held first place for a long time, and then yielded it to Lancaster. Finally, on Sunday, Lancaster lost a game to Newark, and at the same time lost first place, though she is but four points behind Richmond, and one game can shift the situation.

Richmond has the advantage, however, in that she plays all of her remaining games at home and Lancaster plays hers abroad. Indeed, Richmond can afford to lose a game or two, and then not forfeit lose a game or two, and then not forfelt seventh and ninth innings gave Read-the pennant, for she has eight more to ing the game. The score follows: play, while Lancaster has but five, and if she loses two she will have six victories to her credit, while Lancaster can have

All the teams in the league played two games yesterday-one in the morning and one in the afternoon-and in every instance save at Allentown, where she and Reading split even, the same team won

The First Game.

The first game was one of those listess contests which causes the ordinary spectator to fall asleep in the grandstand and gives the ardent rooter an at-tack of paresis. Neither the Bichmond nor the Norfolk club, apparently, tried to play, and the result was a contest, or rather a farce, in which Richmond won without the slightest effort.

Bishop went in to pitch for Richmond. and he did so in a very effective manner, his former companions being unable to to aught with him. Manager Cunning ham put Steelman in to twirl for the Clams and he might as well have gone in the box himself for all practical purposes. Steelman is a good ball player, but he is no pitcher, and the home team were able to bat him at will. The Bluebirds were, however, not inclined to use the stick so overvigorously, and they let teelman off with thirteen hits, though f they had so desired, they might have nade three times that number. NORFOLKS DIDN'T HALF TRY. There was no effort made on the parof the Norfolko to win the game, and The game dragged along though and occasionally, notwithstanding the lumbest kind of base running, a Blue-pird would cross over the rubber and core. During the first five innings three uns were tallied for Richmond, and in he seventh another went down, though o the credit of Norfolk.

This apparently aroused the locals from their lethargy, and in the eighth they went to work and made three more runs. There was no necessity for their taking their ninth, as Norfolk made no more ons, and the game ended with Rich-nond an easy winner, as is shown by

The Second Game. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon it looked as if there would be no second game, on account of rain, but the clouds went away, and the rain ceased. The second game was, accordingly, played and Richmond cloudy-day crowd. Jack Chesbro pitched a good game. He was hit safely in every inning save the last, but he seemed bent on getting into holes just to work his way out. In the third, just to show what he could do, af-ter one man had been retired, three men got on the corners on hits, but then Jack settled down, and not a run was scored. Norfolk seemed to like speed, so Jack fed them well, but when it was needed a neat and puzzling bender was sent up. All the club played gilt-edged ball. Gus Klopf had hard chances, but he accepted all of them, and Shannon sas, as usual, in the game. In the first inning Bobby Wheelock sent a nice single to right. Everybody thought he would be safe, but

His two hits—one a double and the other a nice, long three-base drive—scored three runs. Dan Leahy, who makes himself valuable to the club by preventing runs, accepted nine chances, and started what turned out to be one of the fastest double plays seen this season.

CLAMS DID BETTER. Norfolk, too, played nice ball. As all of Manager Cunningham's twirlers were out of shape, on account of extra work, the handsome Norfolk sportsman gave young Frank Ryan a trial. Ryan is a local boy, who is quite a good pitcher, and who has helped out here several times. He did very good work yesterday in handling the Richmond team as well as he did. All Wells's men got in the hit column were seven hits, and they were well scattered, at that, except in the fifth, when a bunch of three netted two runs.

Howard Holland played well again. He did not have a fielding chance, but was at bat four times and got two neat singles, one of them scoring Norfolk's two runs. Jack Wentz carried off fielding and batting honors for Norfolk, and all in all, the game was fought from the jump. Norfolk finishes its engagement here this afternoon.

A WELL-ROUNDED BILL.

Welcome for the Return of Me-Carthy and Reynolds at Main-St. Main-Street Vaudeville Park opened another week most successfully last night to a crowded pavilion, and with a performance which both merited and received an enthusiastic reception from start to finish. For Boyle and Graham. as originally billed, were substituted the popular favorites McCarthy and Revholds, and it is very doubtful if the former would have elicited the applause which greeted these performers on their appearance. There are laughs and to spare, and they are the result of clever work. Another top liner was Harry Sefton, with his same old walk and his same old songs, which notwithstanding their age, possess the power of keeping his audience in roars of laughter. He is also very ably assisted by Miss May Deagle, who has a number of intricate and well-executed acrobatic dances. Miss Edith Craske has one of the prefttiest averence of the season in her "Dance of the Nations," in which she displays an many as a holiday though but few of the elaborate wardrobe, as well as more than usual abilities as danscuse, and praise is stores and other commercial houses are wardling for the leaf. and dances, of Burton and Paul, or for the songs and dances of Miss Ivy Moss.

COLONEL HUBARD'S REMARKS. Colonel Hubard said there was no particular issue in this election, and upon proceeded to uphold the gold standard, inveighing against the income tax and speaking favorably of territorial ex-pansion. He defended national banks and protection and arraigned corpora-tions for watering their stock and charging high freight rates.

Quaries, in his rejoinder, handled Hubard's arguments in strong, vigorous style making many telling points. He said: "Here is the gentleman's position: It's is for the gold standard; he is for protection; he is for imperalism; he is for monopolles." Calls were made for "Cyclone Jim" Marshall, but as it was a day of arranged joint debate, he declined to respond.

STAR CROWD OF THE SEASON. Opening of a Strong Bill at Broad-Street Vandeville Park.

The audience that welcomed Simmons & Slocum's Minetrels to the Auditorium at Broad-Street Park last night equalled in size any seen in the pavilion since Bryan's memorable speech in this city during his campaign. The box-office tally sheets are responsible for the assertion that there were considerably over 40 that there were considerably over 40 more people in the audience than in any other of the season.

The performance is not divided into acts by the fall of the curtain, but is continuous, and once the curtain is raised, the merriment of the audience caused by the wit and songs of the company never ceases until its fall at the finale, which is a jolly farce, entitled "Beasley's Degither role of the dog being filled by Bismarck, a wonderfully intelligent caning.
